Ronalds Rundāns

1. Access Corpus of Contemporary American English or a different Corpus and search the corpus for linguistic patterns.

https://www.english-corpora.org/coca/https://quod.lib.umich.edu/cgi/c/corpus/corpus?c=micase&cc=micase&type=simple&q1=save https://yohasebe.com/tcse/

2. Choose a conceptual metaphor, such as “Love is a journey,” “Time is money,” , etc.

Time is money

3. Using the chosen metaphor, identify relevant keywords that might be used metaphorically. Please pick at least 3 keywords.

For example: For “Love is a journey,” you could search for words like “path,” “road,” “crossroads,”

For “Time is money,” you could search for words like “spend,” “save,” “invest,” “waste,” etc.

“spend,”

“save,”

“invest,”

“waste,”

4. From the search results, extract examples of metaphorical language. Please focus on around 30-40 entries per keyword.

“spend,”

Nr.	• Differentiate between literal and metaphorical uses of words.	• Note the contexts in which these metaphors appear (e.g., informal conversations, academic writing, etc.).
1	. # # Ability to upload an image into the post rather than having to spend time uploading it to another site then pasting that url into the " tree "	Blog
2	one of the great things about being an educator is sharing. I think we spend so much time looking online for resources and wishing we had things, sometimes all	Blog
3	because I have worked at several factories/plants and it is so mind-numbing that you practically spend your day hatching escape plans. I am not knocking people who work in factories	Blog
4	the town hall, I find it borderline improbable that given all the time they spend in " hot spots " they haven't found more than bupkus. It's	Blog
5	he got to go and " kidnap " them from school or their house to spend time with him, he did. You knew that he was extremely proud of	Blog
6	, just to get something out on the market -- because we'll have to spend so much more time keeping a bad product operating. # One company I worked	Blog
7	in the kitchen every day. Get to know what someone is passionate about and spend time with them outside of work -- it builds trust and positivity, which are	Blog
8	how important our work will be to the company. We get to work, spend long hours perfecting, problem-solving, and iterating, and many times don't hear	Blog
9	her third total week at #1, Underwood is the only female country singer to spend that kind of time at the top of the charts in 2012. # This	Blog
10	off that you know will benefit your life, let's stop right now and spend one uninterrupted hour just doing that thing. It may be research, a phone	Blog
11	when a loved one is fading fast. In my line of work, I spend a significant amount of time with those who must keep that vigil. I must	Blog
12	The reality that I needlessly live on the edge of crisis and chaos as I spend hours searching through my purse (may as well be the black hole of outer	Blog

13	each client the intensive representation that he deserves. I have plenty of time to spend on each of my cases, and time to communicate with each of my clients	Blog
14	a full month before The Hobbit: An Unexpected Journey hits theaters. You can spend those weeks scarfing down Bilbo's Berry Smoothie and the inexplicably named Radagast's Red	Blog
15	. Having a website is something that is natural. More and more, people spend most of their time on the World Wide Web. Even though we know about	Blog
16	# We give the example of Google and their 20 percentile. Google employees can spend 20 percent of their time doing anything they want, working on any project.	Blog
17	solving, but it has to be married with problem identification, because if you spend too much time solving that one problem, you're missing the boat. Big	Blog
18	# I setup my social media posts for the day in the morning. I spend about 60-90 minutes catching up on education and social media news and schedule my posts	Blog
19	worth. Do you really think if he was worth 10 Billion Dollars he would spend his time doing a TV show? Consider that many very affluent people do not	Blog
20	(Laughter.) And I did it because I wanted to be able to spend Election Day really helping to get the vote out. And hopefully you all think	Blog
21	summer, means that more students will struggle academically and teachers will be forced to spend more time on catch-up and remedial 911 once the new school year begins. Decades	Blog
22	drills in November, at the Goodyear, Ariz., complex, where he'll spend his winter. " I feel great, " he said. " Everything's	Blog
23	#help the symptoms, doctors have told Michael Vick to spend the weekend in a dark quiet area, avoiding exercise and watching video.	Blog
24	#the studies found that EHRs enable nurses to: # Spend more time with patients; # Improve coordination of care; # Reduce time	Blog
25	#taxes " make room " for the currency sovereign to spend without causing demand-pull inflation. I think this is the best way to think	Blog
26	#upload an image into the post rather than having to spend time uploading it to another site then pasting that url into the " tree	Blog
27	#several factories/plants and it is so mind-numbing that you practically spend your day hatching escape plans. I am not knocking people who work in	Blog
28	#find it borderline improbable that given all the time they spend in " hot spots " they haven't found more than bupkus. It	Blog
29	#" kidnap " them from school or their house to spend time with him, he did. You knew that he was extremely proud	Blog
30	#out on the market -- because we'll have to spend so much more	Blog time keeping a bad product operating. # One company I

31	#. Get to know what someone is passionate about and spend time with them outside of work -- it builds trust and positivity, which	Blog
32	#be to the company. We get to work, spend long hours perfecting, problem-solving, and iterating, and many times don't	Blog
33	##1, Underwood is the only female country singer to spend that kind of time at the top of the charts in 2012. #	Blog
34	#benefit your life, let's stop right now and spend one uninterrupted hour just doing that thing. It may be research, a	Blog
35	#fading fast. In my line of work, I spend a significant amount of time with those who must keep that vigil. I	Blog
36	#live on the edge of crisis and chaos as I spend hours searching through my purse (may as well be the black hole of	Blog
37	#that he deserves. I have plenty of time to spend on each of my cases, and time to communicate with each of my	Blog
38	#Hobbit: An Unexpected Journey hits theaters. You can spend those weeks scarfing down Bilbo's Berry Smoothie and the inexplicably named Radagast's	Blog
39	#something that is natural. More and more, people spend most of their time on the World Wide Web. Even though we know	Blog
40	#to be married with problem identification, because if you spend too much time solving that one problem, you're missing the boat.	Blog

“save,”

Nr.	• Differentiate between literal and metaphorical uses of words.	• Note the contexts in which these metaphors appear (e.g., informal conversations, academic writing, etc.).
1	#12 months. # # The option to state and save my time zone so I see what the real time was when the posts	Blog
2	#Did you know that ONE(1) hour of proper planning will save you 200 hours of correction? # I want you to think about it	Blog
3	#n't work for me no matter how much i could save a month. # My AT &T; experience over the last 10 years has	Blog
4	#. Therefore, if you want to catch and save this memorable event in your life, bring your camera with you and filled	Blog
5	#very American urge to offer to help them and thereby save all of us in the queue some time. (Not to mention the	Blog
6	#reason, I'm holding on... # Let me save you a decade of your life. A PhD is NOT worth the effort	Blog
7	#required to remain current with taxation laws. They can save both time and money, while providing professional services. # OutsourceTaxReturn.com is a	Blog
8	#mean. Clearly no one cares about your opinions so save yourself the time and keep them to yourself. # The bottom line is	Blog
9	#to be dismissed. Sant understands voters might prefer to save the time and money on prosecution. # But Sant argues, " Not	Blog
10	#to go into harms way. They had time to save all Americans and at the same time, deliver unspeakable devastation on the attackers	Blog
11	#means. If there's no payoff, you can save us both time by leaving me in the dark. # >>> What's	Blog
12	#his draft order into a full-blown presidential proclamation. To save time, he used a pair of scissors to clip some relevant sections of	Blog
13	#the time now to make sure you're ready will save you time, make you money, and lessen the stress of running a	Blog
14	#week and they'll need a win to not only save their season, but possibly keep Andy Reid employed for a little while longer	Blog
15	#deserves. 2. Chris' forthcoming voting guide will save you time as you prepare to cast your vote this November. 3.	Blog
16	#provide me with a link to its English version and save me some time if there is an online version? or should i just	Blog

17	So with only enough time to save one ship, which one should you choose?	spoken
18	#your film. Put the canister in your pocket, save time, your film and yourself from looking like a nimrod. # Alan	Blog
19	nus the numerator times the derivative of the denominator all over the denominator squared. and i'll save you the time.	spoken
20	save machine time for the next time you log in to go get a sear- try to get a search that you were using	spoken
21	of a loyal friend or spouse, suffices to save the day, a hair-breadth escape at the eleventh hour, is the usual	spoken
22	But if you engage, if you participate, you can turn time served into time saved.	spoken
23	And it's estimated that since the release of this model, we've saved over a billion years of research time.	spoken
24	A seemingly automated morning routine, for example, saves you both time and precious mental energy.	spoken
25	We know that one of the best times to save is when you get your tax return.	spoken
26	I will save you the time.	spoken
27	But we think this could be equally as powerful for the teacher to drive more personalized education and frankly save time and energy for themselves and for their students.	spoken
28	The truth is, 10 times out of 10, science wins, it saves the day.	spoken
29	So focus on experiences, on spending time with others and on expenditures that help save you time, like hiring someone to clean your house or mow your lawn.	spoken
30	So we could actually save time with less resources.	spoken

“waste,”

Nr.	• Differentiate between literal and metaphorical uses of words.	• Note the contexts in which these metaphors appear (e.g., informal conversations, academic writing, etc.).
1	Therefore, it is OK if you waste time, and you should probably waste more.	spoken
2	So why would I want to waste time with something that is not part of that goal?	spoken
3	There are, of course, many ways to waste time, and apparently some benefits to gain.	spoken
4	Well, I believe that it's not a bad thing if you waste time.	spoken
5	So some scientists would say, "Well, it's not scientific," which is true, "So let's not waste time on it, it's just an illusion."	spoken
6	The Internet brought us a lot of ways to waste time.	spoken
7	So there are many ways to waste time and also some benefits to gain, but still the question stands: "Can time go to waste?"	spoken
8	actually get there really quick, and navigated by a traffic navigator to get there and not waste time.	spoken
9	Unlike other mammals, sloths don't also waste time maintaining a constant warm body temperature.	spoken
10	In the beginning of my talk, I brought up the idea that it's a good thing to waste time.	spoken
11	Whenever I see a fast track, I know there is a slow process, and the slow process often means a lot of wasted time.	spoken
12	Slow time is not wasted time.	spoken
13	On all the wasted products and wasted time.	spoken
14	Instead, be happy about wasted time.	spoken
15	"Everything up to this point is wasted time." "What's the use? Good night."	spoken
16	So I started to ask myself, "Is all of this wasted time?"	spoken
17	So, of course, even if you don't have something to show off, like a movie, a product of your wasted time, if you don't have that, it doesn't matter.	spoken
18	on grade will be thirty percent of your total grade for the course, so generally, you'll want to notwasteyour time here LAUGH thirty percent is a pretty big chunk, but generally it'l	spoken
19	s- there seems to be some, some difficulty with it so, um, so bear that in mind. it is very easy towastea lot of time and to lose points, by, by doing	spoken that i mean i counseled you on the hour exam to do th

20	tell you, good luck... some people have tried this years ago, uh, it's too tedious and it's a lot ofwasteof time, uh not only because it's very tedious but because there's a much better way. if we didn't k	spoken
21	h, see what you have to do you have to aim it really, right at this stupid thing. okay, um let's notwasteit. we don't have the time to waste our_ uh, i'll show you what they were gonna show you... (might a	spoken
22	to aim it really, right at this stupid thing. okay, um let's not waste it. we don't have the time towasteour_ uh, i'll show you what they were gonna show you... (might as well just) show you the movie	spoken
23	at the moment i can't find where they've hidden the uh colors so i won't uh,waste time on that... but i do wanna do some stuff on there so, okay um	spoken
24	e i think i just need to manage my time better because i s- i mean i do waste a lot of time. and you know i mean if i, like i could do ev- i think i really	spoken
25	So when I'm really doing something that is actually just a waste of time, in my mess of a life, I'm too tied into my story that got me out of bed, and ideally, I ought to have some very complex story map in my mind, you know, with combinatorials and a matrix of computation, and the like, but that is not how stories work.	spoken
26	So here was the consultant's advice: first, don't waste your time on kids who are going to pass the test no matter what you do.	spoken
27	But we don't have time to waste.	spoken
28	This idea is so pervasive -- that games are a waste of time that we will come to regret -- that I hear it literally everywhere I go.	spoken
29	I really didn't have a lot of time to waste.	spoken
30	We don't have time to waste.	spoken

You should:

• Differentiate between literal and metaphorical uses of words.

• Note the contexts in which these metaphors appear (e.g., informal conversations, academic writing, etc.).

5. Analyze the metaphorical expressions: What do these metaphors reveal about the culture and values? How do these metaphors help convey abstract concepts? Are there patterns in the type of texts or contexts where these metaphors are used?

“spend,”

Most frequent words in the corpus:

spend (40); time (28); work (9); problem (6); think (5)

“save,”

Most frequent words in the corpus:

time (28); save (26); times (3); money (3); years (2)

“waste,”

Most frequent words in the corpus:

time (33); waste (22); wasted (8); it's (7); uh (6)

6. Reflect on how the metaphors you found shape meaning and affect communication.

How might different metaphors alter the perception of the same idea?

For instance, how does the metaphor “Life is a battle” shape one’s worldview differently than “Life is a journey”?

Results: A presentation summarizing your findings, including:

• Examples of metaphors from the corpus.

• Analysis of metaphorical usage.

• Reflections on how metaphors influence meaning.

The presentation should be around 10-15 min long